Is it still home recording when your home is the studio? Verry Gerry, aka Keith Doiron is a multi-instrumentalist and songwriter from Truro, Nova Scotia. After years of playing experience and touring with Walrus, Garrett Mason, Postdata and many other east coast Canadian artists Gerry's now ready to serve up his unique mixture of worlds he's blended into one of his own. "Talk in Song", the first single from his debut off-the-wall power pop album "Go Fly a Kite" was entirely self-produced, recorded and performed by Keith in his grandfather's basement in summer of 2022 and will be released Feb. 24.

"I've taken time to make sure this music really feels like my own, I have evolved from the many places I've found myself as a session musician"
